

OUR MISSION

Red Feather Ranch reconnects women veterans to their authentic selves through earth-based practices and a supportive community of sister veterans.

Our Vision:
All women veterans realize their own resilience and wisdom as they find that they ultimately are their own source of inspiration.

Red Feather Ranch in Kings Valley, OR is located within the traditional homelands of the Kalapuya people. Following the Willamette Valley Treaty of 1855 (Kalapuya etc. Treaty), Kalapuya people were forcibly removed to reservations and military posts in Western Oregon. This includes Ft. Hoskins, which is located in the Kings Valley area. Today, living descendants of these people are a part of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde Community of Oregon and the Confederated Tribes of the Siletz Indians.

ONLINE WOMEN VETERANS HEALING ROOM

This is a safe and secure women veteran peer support group for individuals who would like to meet with other women veterans and build community without geographic limitations.

If you are a woman who served in the U.S. military anytime, anywhere, for any length of time you are welcome to join us. This space is meant to be inclusive, confidential, safe, secure, and a source of community support. This group is not meant to replace mental health care, nor is it group therapy, or a religious gathering.

REGENERATIVE RETREATS

Our retreats, grounded in mindfulness and intention, provide synergistic safe space for women veterans to connect with their authentic selves and their sisters through talking circles, earth-based practices, art projects, and physical activities based on individual choice and ability.

We emphasize each person's strengths and honor their unique path, values, and voice.

We invite you to move forward with us as we continue to grow and strengthen our community of women veterans.

OUR DIVERSITY STATEMENT

We, at Red Feather Ranch, thrive on diversity in our practices and our people. We value curiosity and we strive to ensure that every voice is heard, because every voice, every history, every angle, and every lens matters to us.

We find beauty in diversity. Where you come from and who you are are important to us. We invite you and we welcome all to be part of our interconnected ecosystem.
